Rendezvous with bread ——— Those who question everything and think things afresh need plenty of passion and lifeblood. That's the only way to create bread which is more than just bread. The bread obtains a real character, a strong personality. With oohs and aahs. Our breads are as complex as life itself. Like the people who bake them. All the members of our bread family have one thing in common: just like us, they're true originals from Austria's wine growing region, and a strong family.

This attachment to our home region and real craft are our aspiration. That's why we only work with the best, most inspiring organic producers. Together with them, we have a vision of creating authentic products which set new standards with their quality. Because they're made by hand. Because animals and nature were taken into consideration during production. Because they're natural and genuine. And because they just taste better. Bon appétit!
